THE BEE HIVE

Our stock of Ladies' and Misses' Jackets and Capes, Children's and Infants' Cloaks, is larger, better and more complete this season than ever before. We never stand still. The experiences of this season will show us where some improvements can be made the next. We study your wants and make greater efforts to meet your requirements as the days roll by. You'll find the truth of rectors: this well illustrated in our Cloak Department. Our space is too limited to go into details. All the various styles and bargain prices would fill a book. We've Ladies' Jackets from $2 75 to $15 95. Capes from 69c, to $18. Misses and Children's Jackets from 98c. to 810 50. Infants' Long Cloaks from $1 to $5 50. Our Plush Cape at $4 95 is an especial leader, worth fully $6 50. At $6 95 and $8 95 you'll find all-wool Kersey Jackets with mercerized or silk lining that are worth respectively $8 50 and $11. We guarantee a perfect fit with every garment. The prices are all marked in plain figures.

Collarettes and Boas.

This will be a great fur season. We are showing a fine of Collarettes and Boas equal to that of most metropolitan stores, with the one difference that our prices are lower. They come in Marten and Seal, some trimmed with Monfilon, others with Astrachan. You can have your choice of the short Collarette or one with long tabs and tails. Prices $1 98 to $12 50. We invite comparison.

No lecturer, either of America or England, is of so wide repute or has so many pleasing qualities as has our broad-minded American, Wallace Bruce. The Brooklyn Times says: "Of all the orators who graced the platform of the Newburg Centennial it was reserved for Wallace Bruce to fire the nearts of the multitude. He spoke with the fervor of a minstrel, and a score of men whose eyes had moistened and their faces flushed while they listened to him, sprang forward to shake him by the hand. Art triumphed over statesmanship. This man will lecture at Courtbouse under auspices of Y. M. C. As October 14th, 1899.

FRIDAY'S CASH SALE.

At the close of each season manufacturers gather the remnants of fabrics left, tie them in bundles and sell them at prices below regular. The material is in every way equal to the bolt goods, but coming in short lengths is sold at a reduction. These remnants are called "Mill Ends." It was our good fortune to receive a large consignment of Outing Flannel mill ends which enables us to sell

THE 8%c. QUALITY FOR 5c.

They come in 8 to 10-yard lengths in stripes of pink, red, blue, helitrope, tan, gray or cardinal, chiefly on cream grounds, only a few dark colors in the lot. The goods suggest the snuggest sort of material for bed gowns and children's wear. Just a clearance the maker said, but the lot is big and tempting and the price much less than even we could make it under ordinary circumstances.
